To the best of our knowledge, we hereby declare that the following current products comply with the following Regulations and Standards.

Dodd-Frank Act, Sect 13(p) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934

We source all of our materials only from reputable manufacturers and remain in constant contact with all of our production material suppliers. As far as we are aware, the provisions of human rights and labour laws are fully respected by all of our suppliers. In addition, they comply with strict environmental standards and use non-hazardous raw materials as far as possible. All of our suppliers, without exception, are requested to purchase all materials or parts thereof, which are delivered to us, exclusively from conflict-free, respectively certified companies and to give us a written report of the steps taken in terms of due diligence. As a result we can certify, to the best of our knowledge, that we do not use any conflict minerals from uncertified melting companies in the conflict region in any our products.

We cannot however offer a permanent guarantee, that none of our products has or ever will contain conflict minerals.
